

Why?

Most computer service companies focus on one-time fixes. They look for one-time customers instead of long-term clients. Many computer service and repair businesses do not care if a customer comes back to them or whether they refer them to others. Most computer repair businesses try to make the most profit possible in one business dealing with the customer. What many computer repair businesses want is for computer users to have problems with their computers. They obviously do not have the same interests. What computer users want is for their computers to be running properly?

Partnership

Computech Support has a different philosophy. We believe that if we can keep a client's computer running well at all times, they will be glad to refer their friends and family to us. We know that if they need service in the future, they will be more than willing to come back to us to do it. Why? We like to think it is because of our high level of service and client first mentality. It could be because our services offer the most value to the client. Keep in mind that we do not need to offer maintenance discount or promotions to our Monthly Maintenance Clients in order for them to use our services again; we're confident that they would use our services regardless. We do it because we want to show that Computech Support's interests are aligned with our client's. We are happy to reward loyal clients by going the extra mile for them to show them that we appreciate them.

Keep Your Computer Healthy

Our Preventive Maintenance Plan...

Is recommended for Home or Business users who want the piece of mind that their computer hardware and software will start up optimally. No more worrying about error messages, slow laptops, viruses and spyware.

Our Technicians will install updates, the newest anti-virus and anti-spyware programs and check for possible future problems. We then offer recommendations for fixes to these problems. All of this is done remotely without having to have a technician come to your home or business each month. We are responsible for removing any unwanted viruses and spyware on your computer, at no cost to you under our plan.

Monthly Maintenance Clients also receive priority service over our general clients.

You will also receive a reminder call the day before your scheduled maintenance is performed

Proper maintenance can prevent costly computer repairs. We offer support for Windows XP, Vista, Windows 7 and Mac.
